Realising potential, nurturing leaders of the future

STATUTORY CONTEXT

There is a statutory requirement for the school to provide a balanced and broadly based curriculum which prepares students for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life, which includes preparation for the world of work. Inherent in this preparation is the development of our students' enterprise skills and capabilities, their knowledge of the workplace, their knowledge of the range of career pathways and their knowledge of financial literacy and economic and business understanding.

The latest updated statutory guidance comes from the DFE (October 2018) and it builds upon the Government's Careers Strategy 2017 that sets out a long term plan to build a world class careers system that will help young people and adults choose the career that is right for them.

The statutory guidance has been updated to expand on the aim set out in the strategy to make sure that all young people in secondary school get a programme of advice and guidance that is stable, structured and delivered by individuals with the right skills and experience.

To achieve this aim, the careers strategy sets out that every school and academy providing secondary education should use the Gatsby Charitable Foundation's benchmarks to develop and improve their careers provision. The statutory guidance has been restructured around the benchmarks with information on what schools need to do to meet each one.

The Gatsby Benchmarks are not a statutory framework but by adopting them, schools can be confident that they are fulfilling their legal duties: the existing duty to secure independent careers guidance and the new duty to provide opportunities to a range of providers of technical education and apprenticeships to access students to inform them about technical education qualifications or apprenticeships.

The benchmarks go further by defining all of the elements of an excellent careers programme, based on the best national and international research. The Government recognises that the work needed to meet all eight Benchmarks will vary for individual schools. The Government's expectation is that schools begin to work towards the Benchmarks now and meet them by the end of 2020.

Compass Plus is an online self-evaluation tool for schools to use to assess how their careers support compares against the Gatsby Benchmarks and the national average. Schools should baseline themselves using this tool, consider the opportunities to improve their careers programme based on their confidential results, and track their progress against the Benchmarks over time. The use of the new digital Careers Dashboard will allow schools to monitor effectiveness of provision at a student level.

The careers strategy explains that both co-ordinated external support and an appropriately skilled and experienced leader in school are important to help schools meet the Benchmarks. This statutory guidance explains what support will be made available to schools in 2020.

The Careers & Enterprise Company (CEC) will provide external support to schools.

In 2014, the Government established the CEC, to provide the strategic coordination for employers, schools, colleges, funders and careers programme providers to create high impact careers and enterprise support to young people (aged 11-18).

The CEC's initial focus has been on employer engagement, based on evidence about the importance of giving young people more opportunities to connect with employers of all sizes, and from all sectors. These encounters will inspire students and allow them to learn about what work is like, or what it takes to be successful in the workforce. The careers strategy confirmed that the CEC will take on a more ambitious role, building on their progress to date by coordinating support for schools across all of the Gatsby Benchmarks via the Enterprise Advisor network.

The careers strategy sets out that every school needs a careers leader who has the skills and commitment, and backing from their senior leadership team, to deliver the careers programme across all eight Gatsby Benchmarks. Every school will be asked to name this careers leader. This requirement will be introduced in September 2018.

More information on the role of the careers leader is set out in a new guide "Understanding the role of the Careers Leader" 2018.

The way in which careers guidance will continue to be considered during Ofsted inspection is set out in Ofsted's Common Inspection Framework and School Inspection Handbook updated in 2019.

A successful careers guidance programme will also be reflected in higher numbers of students progressing to positive destinations such as:

- Apprenticeships
- Technical routes
- Sixth form colleges
- Further education colleges
- Universities
- Employment

Destination measures provide clear and comparable information on the success of schools in helping all of their students take qualifications that offer them the best opportunity to continue in education or training. KS4 and 16-18 (KS5) education destinations are published in performance tables on gov.uk, meaning that they are becoming an established part of the accountability system.

This policy identifies the rationale, aims, objectives, curriculum provision, management and evaluation/review processes required to achieve the above requirements.

This policy is written taking into account a number of key policies and statutory guidance, including:

- Careers Guidance and access for education and training providers - statutory guidance for governing bodies, school leaders and school staff (October 2018)
- Understanding the role of the careers leader a guide for secondary schools (2018)
- CDI Careers Guidance in Schools and Colleges (June 2018)
- DFE Destinations Data – good practice guide for schools (October 2018)
- Careers Strategy: making the most of everyone’s skills and talents (Dec 2017)
- OFSTED Education Inspection Framework (September 2019)
- Schools Inspection Handbook (2019)
- The Gatsby Benchmark Toolkit

STATUTORY DUTIES

1. Section 42A of the Education Act 1997 requires governing bodies to ensure that all registered students at the school are provided with independent careers guidance from year 8 (12-13 year olds) to year 13 (17-18 year olds).

2. The governing body must ensure that the independent careers guidance provided:

- is presented in an impartial manner, showing no bias or favouritism towards a particular institution, education or work option
- includes information on the range of education or training options, including apprenticeships and technical education routes
- is guidance that the person giving it considers will promote the best interests of the students to whom it is given

3. The Technical and Further Education Act 2017 inserts section 42B into the Education Act 1997 and came into force on 2 January 2018. This new law requires the proprietor of all schools and academies to ensure that there is an opportunity for a range of education and training providers to access all students in year 8 to year 13 for the purpose of informing them about approved technical education qualifications or apprenticeships.

4. The proprietor must prepare a policy statement setting out the circumstances in which education and training providers will be given access to students, and to ensure that this is followed. The policy statement must be published and must include:

- any procedural requirement in relation to requests for access
- grounds for granting and refusing requests for access
- details of premises or facilities to be provided to a person who is given access

5. The proprietor may revise the policy statement from time to time. The proprietor must publish the policy statement and any revised statement. It is expected that a policy statement will be published for each academy within a multi-academy trust.

6. The School Information (England) Regulations 2008 require schools to publish information about the school's careers programme. This information must relate to the delivery of careers guidance to year 8 to 13 students in accordance with Section 42A of the Education Act 1997. For the current academic year, you must include:

- the name, email address and telephone number of the school's careers leader
- a summary of the careers programme, including details of how students, parents, teachers and employers may access information about the careers programme
- how the school measures and assesses the impact of the careers programme on students
- the date of the school's next review of the information published

WHAT IS THE GOVERNING BODY EXPECTED TO DO?

- The governing body should provide clear advice and guidance to the head teacher on which he/she can base a strategy for careers education and guidance which meets the school's legal requirements, is developed in line with the Gatsby Benchmarks and informed by the requirements set out in this document; every school should have a member of their governing body who takes a strategic interest in careers education and guidance and encourages employer engagement
- The governing body must make sure that arrangements are in place to allow a range of education and training providers to access all students in years 8-13 to inform them about approved technical education qualifications and apprenticeships, and that a policy statement setting out these arrangements is published; this should be part of a broader approach to ensuring that young people are aware of the full range of academic and technical routes available to them at each transition point
- The governance handbook provides information on governors' other legal duties

This can be through a range of enrichment activities including visiting speakers, mentoring and enterprise schemes.
